Cruising causes concerns for residents

'Folks have got the right to come and go.'
'We can't stop the flow of traffic on Main Street.'

CALEN MCKINNEY
reporter@cknj.com

It once brought teenagers from all over the state to Campbellsville to meet with their friends on Friday and Saturday nights. Several years later, after an effort to bring it back, cruising Main Street is causing some problems for local residents. At Monday night's regular Campbellsville City Council meeting, residents Brianna and Brent Burden said they recently moved to Campbellsville because they felt the town is a perfect match for them. However, they said, a sudden resurgence of cruisers driving down Main Street makes the weekends difficult for them as they live downtown. "We just can't sleep on the weekends," Mr. Burden said.

He said weekends on Main Street are full of loud diesel trucks, squealing tires, car horns, music blaring from vehicles and people parking and talking loudly around City Hall. The Burdens said they haven't been able to go to sleep before 2 a.m. on weekends for about a month. Mr. Burden said if cruising happened in a residential neighborhood, it would be shut down immediately. "We're more tired after the weekend," he said. Mr. Burden said Café Bonin on Main Street closed this week and he believes the sudden reemergence of cruising could negatively impact other downtown businesses. "I look at it as we don't need any more businesses to close," he said. "I see it as a deterrence."

Election filing deadline is Tuesday

School board, water district seats up for grabs in November's General Election

Though it is still a few months away, Tuesday marks a filing deadline for the upcoming General Election on Nov. 6. Tuesday is the filing deadline for those wanting a seat on the Campbellsville or Taylor County school boards or the Taylor County Soil Conservation District Board. Those wanting to file for those seats must do so by Tuesday at 4 p.m. at the Taylor County Courthouse. The General Election ballot hasn't yet been finalized, according to Taylor County Clerk Mark Carney. That will be done by Sept. 17, he said, and afterward those who want to vote by absentee ballot can begin doing so. This year's General Election ballot will feature several local, state and national races. Winners will take office in January. Though the ballot isn't set just yet, the deadline to file for the majority of the races was in January. In the Taylor County School Board race, three seats are up for grabs, including the 4th District seat held by Tony Davis, the 3rd District seat held by Jim Cheatham and the 5th District slot held by Lillian Clark. All three have filed for re-election. Doyle Berry has filed to challenge Davis. Anyone filing for the seats must live in the district in which they file and have a high school diploma or GED. School board districts are now aligned with the county's magisterial district boundaries.

Council sees sports complex plans

'Any plan is subject to change ... but at least there's a plan.'

CALEN MCKINNEY

After much discussion and planning, a final rendering of what a sports complex could look like on the city's property on KY 55 has been revealed. And those helping to plan the park say they believe the city is preparing for its future by formulating a plan for the property.

Representatives from Sherman Carter Barnhart Architects presented plans for the proposed park at Monday night's Campbellsville City Council meeting. The firm, which has offices in Louisville, Lexington and Paducah, has hosted two community meetings about the project, and officials said they took suggestions made during those meeting and came up with a final proposal for the park. According to the drawings, the park includes several baseball and softball fields, soccer and football fields, play areas, picnic shelters, practice facilities, meeting space, pavilions, an amphitheater, restrooms, concession stands, walking trails, playground areas, parking and more. A tract of land was also earmarked for a future home of the Taylor County Fair. The proposed sports complex would be located on 175 acres of land the city bought in December from Sue Dowell for $1.3 million. The property is located next to Heartland Commerce and Technology Park. Darrell Douglas from Sherman Carter Barnhart complimented the city and community for having the

'Christ-like' pastor dies

Bro. Vic lived a life of service to his church and community

STEVIE LOWERY
Landmark News Service

"Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him." — John 13:16

The Rev. Victor James Stansbury, 66, better known as "Bro. Vic," viewed his purpose here on earth very simply.

He was here to serve. And from a very young age, he did just that.

He preached his first sermon at age 16, became pastor of his first church at 21 and from that point forward, he continued to serve God, his church and his community at-large.

He served the Protestant and the Catholic.

He served the rich and the poor.

During his 44 years in the ministry, including almost 32 years at Muldraugh Hill Baptist Church in Lebanon, he touched many lives. News of his sudden death on Saturday created a wave of shock and sadness throughout Marion and Taylor counties.

However, his friends said Bro. Vic would not want his church congregation, family or friends to grieve.

"He would want us to be happy for him," said Jay W. Hatfield, director of missions for the Central Association of Kentucky Baptists and pastor of Willisburg Baptist Church in Washington County. "He would want us to rejoice and celebrate with him."

Hatfield, who had known Bro. Vic for 18 years, said he truly had a "Christ-like spirit" and that early on in this life, Bro. Vic felt like God was calling on him to be in the ministry.

At 2 years old, he was hospitalized for 35 days with lockjaw and almost died. He survived, however, and he said that convinced him that his life had a higher purpose.

"My parents always told me I wouldn't be alive today if it wasn't for the church praying for me," Bro. Vic told the Lebanon Enterprise during an interview in November 2010. "I realized that God gave me back my life, and he had a purpose for me."

As a result, Bro. Vic not only joined the ministry, but also volunteered his time daily as a chaplain for Spring View Hospital in Lebanon.

Every day, he visited people in the hospital, regardless of whether they were members of his church.

"He had a compassionate heart that was willing to sit and listen to people and their needs," Hatfield said.

Hatfield said he will miss Bro. Vic's "Godly advice," as well as his laughter and storytelling. But, he said he is happy his friend has finally "retired."

"His family was always asking, 'When are you going to retire?'" Hatfield said. "Bro. Vic left this world doing what he loved to do best. He has got his retirement now. He's in God's kingdom. He has come home to be with the Lord, and getting to do the things we can only dream of now."

Bro. Vic celebrated 30 years at Muldraugh Hill Baptist Church in November 2010. Initially, he thought he would be pastor there for three or four years, which is customary for most pastors. And, as the decades passed, he had invitations from other churches, but each time he said he felt the Lord was calling him to stay at Muldraugh Hill.

"I love my people, that's all I can say," he said during an interview with the Enterprise at his 30th anniversary with the church. "It's going to be tough when the day of retirement comes."

Throughout his ministry, Bro. Vic preached at more than 500 funerals and more than 300 weddings. He said one of the highlights of his career was that he had been able to officiate one couple's wedding and later officiated at the weddings of the couple's children. He watched multiple generations grow up during his time at Muldraugh Hill.

Melody Mays, a long-time member of Muldraugh Hill, said she remembers when a group of men from the church moved Bro. Vic and his family into the church parsonage in November 1980.

"We became one large family," Mays said. Mays said Bro. Vic helped her family through two tragic deaths and also played a major role in getting her father back into the church, which she had wished for since she was a little girl.

"For that decision, I am eternally grateful," Mays said.

Mays said the congregation at Muldraugh Hill knows that Bro. Vic would want them to continue on as normal, which is what they are desperately trying to do. She said the congregation will need time to heal before they can begin to consider searching for a new pastor.

"When you have had a man of his integrity, this will be a huge task," she said.

Ernest C. Taylor, chairman of the deacons at Muldraugh Hill, said Bro. Vic is irreplaceable.

"Of all the ministers, both Protestant and Catholic in Marion and surrounding areas, there is none other that is comparable with Bro. Vic," he said. "He had that personality and dedication to being a servant. He helped anyone with a need. I think it was just ingrained in his thinking. He was here to serve, not to be served."

And if his church congregation, community, family and friends could hear him now, what would he be saying?

"I miss you people, but go on and don't miss a beat," Taylor said. "I know he's looking down, and that's what he would be saying to us."

On July 16, Bro. Vic had gall bladder surgery. He had prostate surgery on July 29 and was recovering from those two surgeries at Taylor Regional Hospital.

On Saturday morning, he had a heart attack and was flown to Jewish Hospital in Louisville, where he died late that afternoon.

His funeral was Tuesday at Muldraugh Hill Baptist Church. The family requests expressions of sympathy be in the form of donations to Muldraugh Hill Baptist Church's elevator project.

Bro. Vic is survived by his wife, Joan Call Stansbury, a daughter and two sons.

An obituary is on Page A3.

Financial Report

The city's June revenue was $792,503.12, while year-to-date revenue was just shy of $11 million. Budgeted revenue for the year was nearly $8.9 million. June expenses were $933,542.39, while year-to-date expenses were nearly $10.1 million. Budgeted expenses were nearly $8.9 million.

Several city departments spent more than 100 percent of their budgets at the end of the fiscal year that ended June 30. The general government, police, planning and codes, fire/fire and rescue, street, garage, landfill, park and swimming pool departments have spent in excess of their budgeted amounts. Young said some adjustments will be made to account for the overages. Adjustments will be made, he said, so the overages don't happen again this fiscal year. The communications, sanitation and EMS budgets were spent at below the 100 percent mark. Young's financial report states that about $2 million more revenue was received during the last fiscal year than was budgeted. Year-to-date expenses were about $1.2 million more than budgeted.

The water company brought in $412,213 in June, while year-to-date revenue is nearly $4.7 million, a bit less than the $4.9 million budgeted. Expenses were $382,991 while year-to-date expenses were nearly $3.9 million, less than the budgeted nearly $4.1 million.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

foresight to contact an architect to help develop plans for the proposed complex. As money comes in to fund the project, he said, officials will have already determined what needs to be constructed.

"Our goal is to create your park," Douglas said. "We wanted the ideas of what this city wants this park to be."

Campbellsville native Myra Vaughn from Sherman Carter Barnhart said the meetings helped discuss the city's short- and long-term goals and encourage local partners to become involved with and interested in the project.

She said a short-term goal identified was a place for little league football players to play. They don't have a specified area now, she said, and have to use high school fields when they aren't in use.

Douglas said questions now would center on how will the complex be operated, meaning will the city operate it or lease it to another group.

Vaughn said the plan emphasizes safety and centralized restrooms and concession stands. She said also considered was what kinds of tournaments the city could host and planning for future growth.

Douglas said the city can now use the plans to generate interest in the project.

"This is a tool that you can use to now go out and fundraise," he said, "and get the community involved and build your dream park."

Councilman Randy Herron asked if tennis courts are included in the plan. Douglas said the city has recently refurbished its courts at Miller Park and, as such, stakeholders said they don't believe courts are a priority for the complex.

Campbellsville Mayor Tony Young said there has been interest from local groups and businesses expressed in the project.

"I think there's quite a bit of interest," he said.

Young said those who have expressed interest haven't said how much they would consider donating to the project, though he expects some donations to be large and others small. He said some could be annual contributions.

City Attorney John Miller said the city has gone out on a limb to hire architects for the project. He said that was done so there will be a strategy as to how the property will be used.

"We wanted to at least have a game plan," he said. "Any plan is subject to change ... but at least there's a plan."

Councilman Stan McKinney asked if the plan specifies a use for all of the city's 175 acres of land or allows for potential industrial growth. Douglas said there is space available should an industry want to locate there.

Young said he is excited for the project to continue to develop.

No action was taken on the proposal by Sherman Carter Barnhart Architects.

WHAT PUTS CHILDREN AT RISK OF DEVELOPING CAVITIES?

The most important risk factor is the oral health of the parents. If Mom or Dad have decayed teeth, that puts their children at a much higher risk of cavities. It is not due to genetics, but instead the spreading of a bacterial infection that causes cavities. Diet is the second risk factor, as many children get a large portion of their daily calories from soda, which is harmful to teeth. Fluoride in the DRINKING WATER actually makes very little difference, and due to the toxic effects many U.S. cities are discontinuing water fluoridation altogether. Brushing, diet, and parent oral health are the keys to cavity-free children! Call us for an appointment today if you're concerned about your child's oral health.

Arresting children
to juvenile crimes

Last year in Kentucky, youth status offenders were booked 1,335 times into a juvenile detention center. It cost about $1.48 million to keep them locked up for a total of 7,191 days and their home counties paid $663,640 of that expense, according to report from Kentucky Youth Advocates.

Was it money well spent? Many juvenile court authorities and groups that promote child welfare say no.

Status offenses are low-level crimes. They are illegal only because they are committed by people younger than 18. Juveniles are charged with status offenses when they buy tobacco or alcohol, when they are beyond the control of their parents or schools and when they are habitually truant or running away from home.

Kentucky Youth Advocates, in a report titled “Ending the Use of Incarcerations for Status Offenses in Kentucky,” argues that Kentucky’s high rate of youth incarceration is ineffective and expensive.

“Not only is incarceration, or secure detention, the most expensive approach, but it is also the least effective, as youth who are detained face greater risk of poor education, work and health outcomes, as well as future incarceration. In fact, incarceration actually increases the likelihood that a youth who has committed a low-level offense will misbehave again.

“Research has shown that even 15 years after their release, youth who had been incarcerated worked 10 percent fewer hours than people who had not been incarcerated,” the report states.

These are the issues before the Kentucky General Assembly’s Juvenile Code Task Force. Rep. John Tilley, D-Hopkinsville, is co-chair of the task force. Christian District Judge Jim Adams testified before the task force Tuesday in Frankfort.

Tilley and Adams say Kentucky’s juvenile code should be modernized.

We agree.

It’s important for Kentuckians and the General Assembly to let the task force do its work. But when it comes time for lawmakers to consider recommendations from the task force, let’s hope bad politics don’t block good legislation. We’ve seen that often enough in recent years.

Getting tough on juvenile offenders sounds good enough until you consider what happens when children are locked up for status offenses. These are often minor offenses that indicate deeper problems in a child’s life. Locking them up isn’t working.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Coach thanks community, friends, family

I would like to say thanks to the Campbellsville Board of Education and to Mr. [Mike] Deaton for their support when I was nominated for the National Assistant Coach of the Year by the National High School Athletic Coaches Association.

A great big thanks [goes] to all of my family and friends who also gave me support and encouragement when I left for Fargo, N.D.

Even though I didn’t win Coach of the Year, it was a great honor for me to be nominated. A well-deserving finalist from South Dakota won the award.

I did my very best to represent Campbellsville High School and the surrounding area to the best of my ability in this humbling event in my coaching career.

Again, thanks to all.

Good things happening

It has been a very busy summer. We are using our resources in a most efficient way. Businesses are partnering to reinstall the security lights on the KY 210 bypass. After working through much red tape, the project has just been approved to begin work.

The city’s street department, the Campbellsville Water and Sewer Co. and Taylor County Rural Electric Cooperative Corp. will perform the work. Taylor County RECC developed a plan that was submitted to the state for approval.

It was not as simple as just putting the lights back like they were before they were removed. The requirements had changed. The number of lights to be used was increased along with the amount of the light illumination required to produce. The sizes of light base foundations have increased along with the amount of concrete to be used. These requirements have increased the cost to the city. More than 180 new posts and lights will be required to complete the project.

The state has just completed the resurfacing of Broadway and repairing old sidewalks. The total cost of the project was more than $500,000. The project was completely funded using state money and our community will enjoy the much-improved surfaces.

Miller Park’s tennis courts remodeling project is nearing completion. A new drainage system, new surfacing, new fences, new nets, new net post, new windbreakers and a new scoreboard will be in place and ready to use in just a few weeks. The total cost of remodeling the courts will exceed $140,000.

Campbellsville/Taylor County EMS Services will receive a new medic unit in a few days with the second new unit to arrive later this fall. The new units will replace aging units and fall in line with the replacement rotation schedule approved by the City Council.

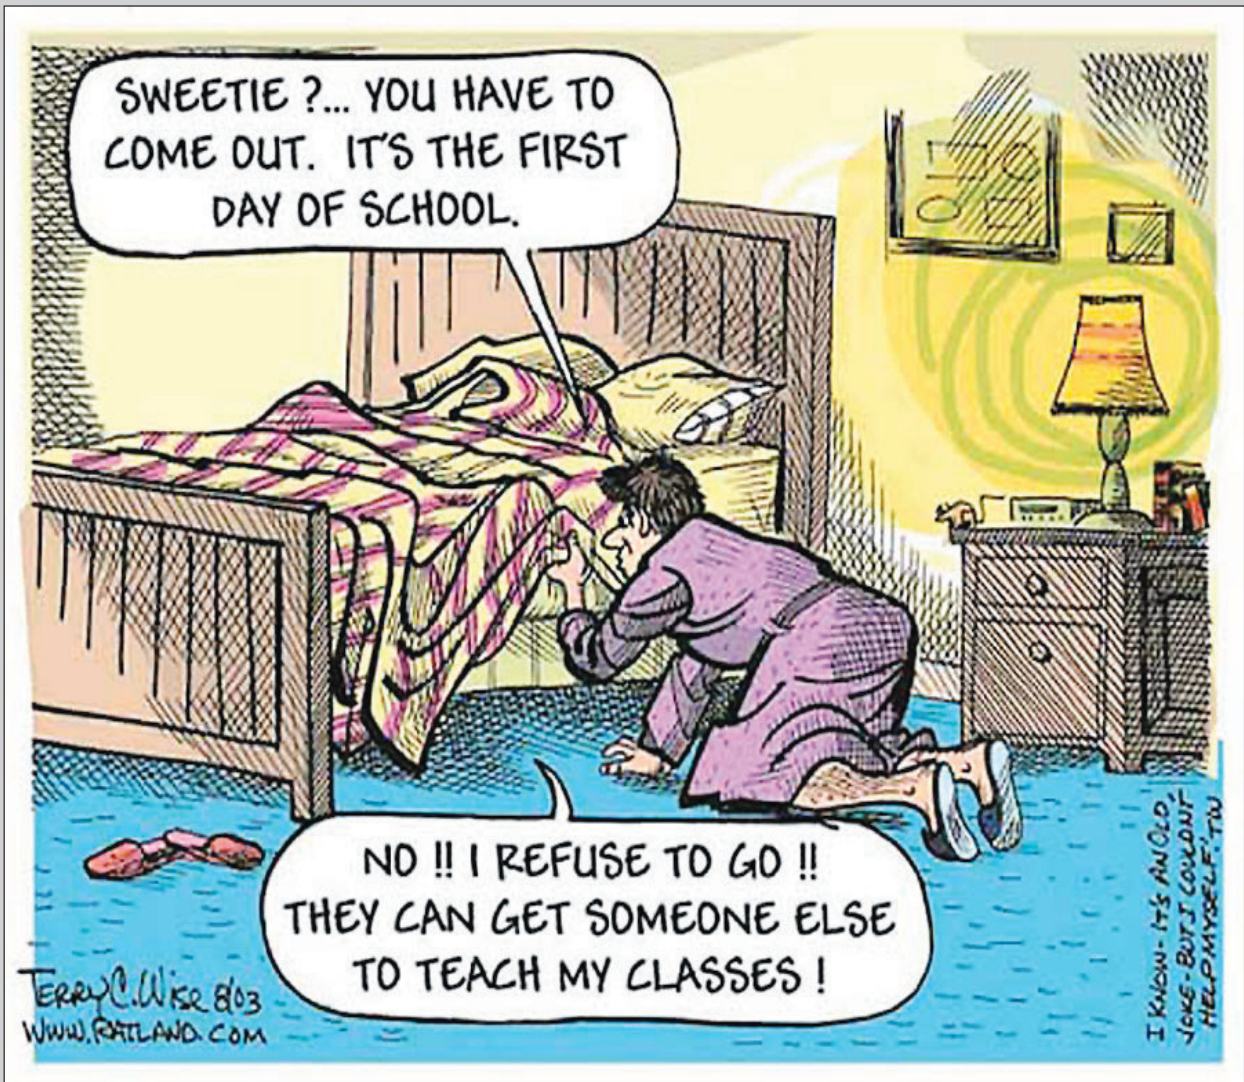

The budget for vehicle maintenance was reduced because of the proven decrease in maintenance cost with the newer units. This is something that has never happened before - the unit is already paid for.

The new medic unit will be paid for with the savings realized from the restructure of rescue to the fire department.

EMS cost has dropped by 13.9 percent from the previous fiscal year and the income from department services has increased by 5.7 percent. The service run volume has increased with fewer personnel, and much credit is given to EMS staff.

In regards to the effort to continue to improve patient care, a new agreement has been reached with Taylor Regional Hospital for advanced training. Starting this week, paramedics will begin doing airway management training in the surgical services department on a regular basis.

GUEST COLUMN

State cracking down on pill abuse

Kentucky is facing a prescription drug abuse epidemic. You’ve likely already heard the statistics. About 1,000 Kentuckians die each year - that’s about three a day - from pain pill overdose.

Some reports estimate that one in three Kentuckians has a friend or family member who they say is struggling with prescription drug addiction.

When I went to Frankfort in January, addressing the scourge of prescription drug abuse was one of my priorities. But, as is often the case, effective solutions are usually as complex as the problems they’re solving. We quickly learned that effective legislation would need to be comprehensive and detailed.

Few dispute that narcotic abuse is being fueled by shady pain-management “clinics” or so-called “pill mills” popping up across the state. These pill mills are fundamentally illegitimate operations. They’re often owned by people without a medical degree who don’t even live in Kentucky. They inappropriately prescribe a seemingly unlimited supply of powerful pain killers to virtually anyone willing to pay.

While we were all eager to crack down on these facilities, we didn’t want to prevent responsible pain management clinics and doctors from prescribing needed medication to patients with legitimate health concerns.

The perfect balance was discussed and debated throughout the entire legislative session before agreement was reached on a measure in an additional week-long special session in April.

House Bill 1, passed in the special session, was the result of months of work by the legislature, governor, attorney general, Cabinet for Health and Family Services, medical licensure boards, physicians and nurses across the state.

The legislation, now law, requires doctors and pharmacists to register with and utilize the once-voluntary Kentucky All Schedule Prescription Electronic Reporting system used to monitor the prescribing and dispensing of controlled substances in the Commonwealth.

It also requires pain management clinics be owned and operated by licensed physicians and sets forth mandatory disciplinary guidelines for those who inappropriately prescribe pain medicine.

A six-member oversight committee was appointed to monitor the implementation and effectiveness of the measure. As a member of that committee, I am especially concerned with making sure the regulations in place now achieve our goal of shutting down “pill mills” without hindering the important pain-management work that upstanding physicians do every day.

So far, we are seeing fast progress. More than 9,000 additional providers have already registered with KASPER. At least four facilities, some of which may have been operating questionably, have announced their closure. We expect to see even more results in the coming months.

For the remainder of 2012, the oversight committee will continue to examine the execution of HB 1 as well as look for ways to make the legislation even stronger and more effective. We will continue working closely with medical professionals and their licensing boards as well.

I am confident that together we can make a difference and successfully fight the war on prescription drugs in this community and state.

Campbellsville Independent School System Annual Notice To Parents Rights Under FERPA For Elementary and Secondary Institutions

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords parents and "eligible students" (students over 18 years of age or students who are attending a post-secondary institution) certain rights with respect to the student's education needs. They are:

- (1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within forty-five (45) days of the day the District receives a request for access.

Parents or eligible students should submit to the school Principal/designee a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Principal will make the arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the record(s) may be inspected.

- (1) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the parent or eligible student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student's privacy or other rights.

Parents or eligible students may ask the District to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of privacy or other rights. They should write the school's Principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of privacy or other rights.

If the District decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the District will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and advise him/her of the right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

- (2) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

Exceptions that permit disclosure without consent include:

- a. Disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A "school official" is a person employed by the District as an administrator, supervisor, instructor or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement unit personnel); a person serving on the school Board; a person or company with whom the District has contracted to perform a special task (such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, or therapist); or a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his/her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility to the District.

- b. Upon request, disclosure of education records without parent/eligible student notice or consent to officials of another school district or post-secondary institution in which a student seeks or intends to enroll or is already enrolled or to other entities authorized by law so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.
  - c. Disclosure information to those whose knowledge of such information is necessary to respond to an actual, impending, or imminent articulable and significant health/safety threat.
- (3) The right to notify the District in writing to withhold information the Board has designated as directory information as listed in the annual directory information notice the District provides to parents/eligible students.

To exercise this right, parents/eligible students shall notify the District by the deadline designated by the District.

- (4) The right to prohibit the disclosure of personally identifiable information concerning the student to recruiting representatives of the U.S. Armed Forces and its service academies, the Kentucky Air National Guard, and the Kentucky Army National Guard.

Unless the parent or secondary school student requests in writing that the District not release information, the student's name, address, and telephone number (if listed) shall be released to Armed Forces recruiters upon their request.

- (5) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the District to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education

TC students graduate from Rogers Scholars Explorers session

Get hands-on experience in a college environment

Taylor County Middle School students Jilly Bruns, Sarah Dickens and Danielle Dickens have graduated from The Center for Rural Development's 2012 Rogers Explorers youth leadership program. The students put their math, science, and technology skills to work this summer attending the Rogers Explorers program from July 18-20 on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. They were among 29 students from Southern and Eastern Kentucky to participate in and graduate from this session of Rogers Explorers and start building their leadership skills and future in some of the nation's top in-demand careers.

"These students are the region's future business and entrepreneurial leaders," said Lonnie Lawson, president and CEO of The Center. "The Rogers Explorers program gives students hands-on experience in a college environment and lets them see the value of higher education while preparing them for success." Rogers Explorers participants spend three days and two nights on a leading college campus where they work with experts to further develop their math, science, and technology skills. The program provides leadership opportunities and unique learning experiences for middle school graduates about to begin their freshman year in high school. "It is encouraging to see these students in the Rogers Explorers program have their eyes on the future," said Delaney Stephens, youth programs coordinator and community liaison for The Center. "By participating in this program, they have the unique opportunity to receive hands-on instruction in today's high-demand math and science careers."

The Rogers Explorers program is presented by The Center, a nonprofit organization in Somerset, to rising freshmen students within its 42-county primary service area in partnership with the University of the Cumberland, Lindsey Wilson College, Eastern Kentucky University and Morehead State University. For more information about Rogers Explorers or other youth program opportunities, contact Delaney Stephens, youth programs coordinator and community liaison, at (606) 677-6000 or email youth@centertech.com.

EDUCATION BRIEF

Money tips

One of the biggest steps to financial security is learning the difference between a need and a want, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority. Students who have learned that difference will find that their bank accounts grow more quickly.

Needs include clothes, food and, for most students, transportation. Basically, each time students are faced with a purchase, they should ask themselves if they really need it or if they can get by with a less expensive substitute, or without it completely. If they can, they should stick the money they don't spend in a savings account so it's there when they really need something. KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship. To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, visit www.gotocollege.ky.gov.

Campbellsville Independent School District Child Find for Children with Disabilities in Need of Special Education or 504 Services

Child Find

The Campbellsville Independent School District (CISD) keeps educational records in a secure location in each school and Board office.

The Campbellsville Independent School District obtains written consent from a parent or eligible student (age 18 or who is attending a postsecondary institution), before disclosing personally identifiable information to an entity or individual not authorized to receive it under FERPA.

For students who have been determined eligible for Special Education, educational records will be destroyed at the request of the parents when they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. The Campbellsville Independent School District may destroy the educational records of a child without parent request three years after they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. Parents are advised that data contained in the records may later be needed for Social Security benefits or other purposes. The Campbellsville Independent School District may retain, for an indefinite period of time, a record of the student's name, address, telephone number, grades, attendance records, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed.

Children eligible for Special Education include those children with disabilities who have autism, deaf-blindness, developmental delay, emotional-behavior disability, hearing impairment, mental disability, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment, other health impairment, specific learning disability, speech or language impairment, traumatic brain injury, or visual impairment and who because of such an impairment need Special Education services.

Children eligible for 504 services include those children in a public elementary and secondary education program who have a current physical or mental impairment that currently substantially limits some major life activity which causes the student's ability to access the school environment or school activities to be substantially limited.

Children eligible for the State-Funded Preschool program include three- and four-year-old children identified with disabilities and four-year-old children who are at-risk, as defined by federal poverty levels up to 150%. Preschool children eligible for special education must have an Individual Education Plan (IEP) instead of a 504 plan to receive State-Funded Preschool program services.

The Campbellsville Independent School District has an ongoing "Child Find" system, which is designed to locate, identify and evaluate any child residing in a home, facility, or residence within its geographical boundaries, age three (3) to twenty-one (21) years, who may have a disability and be in need of Special Education or 504 services. This includes children who are not in school; those who are in public, private, or home school; those who are highly mobile such as children who are migrant or homeless; and those who are advancing from grade to grade, who may need but are not receiving Special Education or 504 services.

The district's "Child Find" system

The Campbellsville Independent School District will make sure any child enrolled in its district who qualifies for Special Education or 504 services, regardless of how severe the disability, is provided appropriate Special Education or 504 services at no cost to the parents of the child.

Parents, relatives, public and private agency employees, and concerned citizens are urged to help the Campbellsville Independent School District find any child who may have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. The District needs to know the name and age, or date of birth of the child; the name, address, and phone number(s) of the parents or guardian; the possible disability; and other information to determine if Special Education or 504 services are needed.

Letters and phone calls are some of the ways the Campbellsville Independent School District collects the information needed. The information the school District collects will be used to contact the parents of the child and find out if the child needs to be evaluated or referred for Special Education or 504 services.

If you know of a child who lives within the boundaries of the Campbellsville Independent School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education or 504 services, please call 270-465-4162 or send the information to:

Section 504 Coordinator

If you know of a child who attends a private or home school within the boundaries of the Campbellsville Independent School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education services, please call 465-4162 or send the information to:

Director of Special Education
Joni Davis
Campbellsville Independent School District
136 South Columbia Avenue
270-465-4162

"Child Find" activities will continue throughout the school year. As part of these efforts the Campbellsville Independent School District will use screening information, student records, and basic assessment information it collects on all children in the District to help locate those children who have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. Any information the District collects through "Child Find" is maintained confidentially.

Written Policies and Procedures have been developed which describe the District's requirements regarding the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and "Child Find" activities. There are copies in the Principal's office of each school, and in the Board of Education office. Copies of these Policies and Procedures may be obtained by contacting:

Director of Special Education
Joni Davis
Campbellsville Independent School District
136 South Columbia Avenue
270-465-4162

The District office is open Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The Campbellsville Independent School District provides a public notice in the native language or other mode of communication of the various populations in the geographical boundaries of the District to the extent feasible.

If you know of someone who may need this notice translated to another language, given orally, or delivered in some other manner or mode of communication, please contact the Director of Pupil Personnel, the Director of Special Education or the Section 504 Coordinator at the address or phone number listed above for the Campbellsville Independent School District.

Make Your Move

Life is a trade-off, sometimes we win, and sometimes we lose. Nevertheless, when we keep the faith in God's will, we find that from an apparent loss we may gain the knowledge of a hidden asset. In Nehemiah 13:2 we read... "Yet, our God turned the curse into a blessing." Do you feel that you have experienced an unjust loss? Are you frustrated that you haven't attained what you long for? Attend your house of worship this week and praise Him for His wisdom... and trust Him for He knows what you truly need.

Cruising: Causes concern for residents

Mr. Burden said he has thought of a few solutions to solve the cruising problem, which include not allowing cruising altogether, passing cruising regulations or making Main Street a one-way street. He also proposed having a regulated cruising event with music and other activities once a month.

"Turn it into something people really look forward to once a month," he said.

The Burdens said they believe cruising will destroy the possibility of having outdoor events at night and could hinder the growth of downtown. They said they suggest that the Council consider adopting an ordinance to address the problems cruising causes.

Campbellsville Mayor Tony Young said he is excited about the development of the downtown area and doesn't want anything to hinder them. "I feel like there's some positive energy there," he said. "There [are] good things happening. I don't want anything negative to happen to downtown. We're on a good roll now."

Young said there used to be signs posted banning loitering after 9 p.m. Some businesses stay open later than 9 p.m., he said, and customers could potentially violate that regulation when they were simply patronizing a Main Street business. The signs have since been removed.

Young said he would feel differently about cruising if those who were coming to Campbellsville brought in revenue for the town. When there is no purpose to the cruising, he said, he has concerns about it.

Councilwoman Vicki Mullins said there are city ordinances that reference loud noises and there is a 1 a.m. curfew for those who are underage. Councilman Dave Nunery asked if Campbellsville Police Chief Tim Hazlette can research the problem and bring a recommendation to the Council for discussion.

Councilman Terry Keltner said there are some laws already in place that officers can use to cite people whose vehicles are too loud and have improper equipment.

Young said local police officers stay busy and often can't devote time to monitor cruising on Main Street. He said the city can't afford to hire more officers.

"I think [a solution] may have to come from this body,"

Councilman Stan McKinney asked if the Burdens know any of the cruisers and could talk to them about the problems it is causing.

The Burdens said they don't know any of the cruisers and have been taunted by cruisers for calling police.

Young said he believes the majority of the cruisers aren't from Campbellsville but other nearby towns.

"Why did they have to pick Campbellsville?"

Hazlette said the cruising issue is a police matter in that every town has a duty to provide a safe environment for its residents. He said the police are simply a part of ensuring the environment is safe, however.

"Social order is really the responsibility of the citizens," he said.

Hazlette said if gas prices increase, the situation might go away on its own.

"It's really difficult to regulate free movement on public thoroughfare."

He said for officers to charge people with committing certain violations, they need to witness the act. That sometimes isn't always possible, with a few officers on duty at a time charged with providing police protection to the entire city.

"I'll do whatever I can within the limit of the law," he said.

Hazlette said business owners could tow vehicles that remain parked in their parking lots after hours.

He said it's difficult to stop someone if they are simply driving up and down a street, if they aren't breaking any laws.

"Folks have got the right to come and go," he said.

Councilwoman Patti Phillips said when she moved to Campbellsville more than 30 years ago, cruising was a teenage tradition. She said a police officer used to patrol Main Street while riding a bicycle.

Hazlette said he believes that officer's salary was paid for with grant funding. He said he will research that.

Keltner said he believes that since laws already exist to cite those who cause a nuisance, there may be little the Council can do.

"We can't stop the flow of traffic on Main Street," he said.

Nunery suggested closing streets near Main Street at certain times at night. Council members also discussed posting signs stating that street intersections aren't to be blocked or people aren't to loiter in parking lots after closing time.

No action was taken, though Nunery suggested forming a committee to study the cruising issue and report back to the Council. Nunery, Phillips, Mullins, McKinney and Council members Mike Hall Jr. and Randy Herron volunteered to serve.

Election: Filing deadline is Tuesday

The Campbellsville School Board boasts five members, Carney said, and two are up for re-election this year. Pat Hall and Barkley Taylor's seats are up for grabs. At press time, only Hall had filed for re-election.

On the soil conservation ticket, four members are up for re-election. Barry Smith, David Cowherd and Doug Martin have all filed for re-election. John McLean hasn't yet completed his paperwork to file for re-election, Carney said.

Carney said the board has seven members. If only four people file by Tuesday's deadline, the race will not be on the ballot.

If three file, the race will be on the ballot, with one write-in candidate winning a seat. If five or more file, the top four vote getters will win seats.

Soil conservation candidates must be from Taylor County and have a petition that contains 25 signatures in support of them.

In a national race, voters will choose who they want to be president of the United States. Incumbent Barack Obama, a Democrat, will face Republican Mitt Romney. Carney said there will likely be other candidates from other parties, though those haven't been finalized yet.

Voters will choose their first 1st District U.S. Representative in November. Ed Whitfield, a Republican, will face off against Charles Hatchett, a Democrat.

For at least the past 30 years, Carney said, Taylor County has been in the 2nd U.S. Representative district. Before that, the county was in the 5th District.

The latest Census records caused Taylor County to be moved to the 1st District for what he said he believes to be the first time.

State Rep. John "Bam" Carney, R-Campbellsville, is also up for re-election in November. He has no opposition.

Voters will also choose a Taylor Circuit Clerk this year. Incumbent Rodney Burress will face Susie Skaggs. The two also faced off during the last General Election.

There will be at least one new face on the Campbellsville City Council next January. Fifteen candidates will face off for 12 seats in November. Candidates had to file by last January to see if a primary race was necessary in May. It wasn't.

Council candidates are incumbents Vangie Ford, Terry Keltner, Vicki Mullins, Patti Phillips, Dr. James Ewing, Randy Herron, David Nunery, Greg Rice, Mike Hall Jr., Stan McKinney and Sharon Hoskins-Sanders.

Residents Randy Bricken Jr., Henry Goff, Diane Ford-Benningfield and Paul Osborne have also filed.

Incumbent Richard Jeter did not file for re-election. His term will expire Jan. 1.

Commonwealth's Attorney Tim Cocanougher, whose term expires in January, did not file for re-election. Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney Shelly Miller has filed for the seat. She has no opposition.

Carney said that even though many candidates don't have opposition, write-in candidates can file for any of the open offices up to 10 days before the election.

The deadline to register to vote in November's General Election is Oct. 9. For more information about the election, call Carney at 465-6677.

McCarty was the King Bee

The passing of long-time businessman Charlie McCarty last week was a sad time for his family and the community. However, it did also stir up some recollections of his sports days.

McCarty opened then Burger Queen around 1970 and it was a big deal for Campbellsville. He also fielded a softball team — one he was the left-handed catcher on.

“He would slide head first,” fondly remembered former outfielder Frank Gaskins earlier this week. “He hated losing.”

McCarty would usually be sweaty and dirty from head to toe as he only knew one way to play the game and that was all-out, not to let the youngsters he played with and coached out-do him.

“He would tell us to come by tomorrow if we won and he would give us a Royal Burger (the Burger Queen trademark sandwich). I guess that made us pro,” laughed Gaskins who was an outfielder on the B League team at Miller Park.

Gaskins said he remembered Craig Tinchier as the pitcher, Randy Watson as the shortstop and the team also consisted of Scotty Shofner, who worked many years at Burger Queen, Clavis Wilson, Donald Holmes and nowadays mailman Gary Gilpin.

Getting Gaskins going on McCarty was easy and he also offered some remembrances of the softball days at Miller Park.

Charles Richardson ran the leagues after Father Bowling and he would use high school and early college-age students as his “ground crew” — usually Mike Gumm, Steve Skaggs and Randy Watson and later Russell Blevins.

“Charlie (Richardson) dragged the field one time by tying the drag to the trunk lid of his new pale green Pontiac Bonneville,” Gaskins looked back at his former teacher at Campbellsville High School. “But, he had to drive around with the trunk open for a month. He got mad when we laughed.”

Gaskins also remembers Gilpin trading his 1965 Mustang for a 1941 Chevrolet.

“One night the hood blew off of it. But, he drove with no hood for the rest of the summer.”

Those type stories were Charlie McCarty who was immediately involved in Campbellsville from day one.

Evidently what McCarty did and does work as the family business, now Druthers, still operates the same successful way it did when the “King Bee” started it over 40 years ago.

Thoughts and notes

•Thank goodness the summer Olympics only comes every four years. Don't get me wrong. All the events are exciting. But, watching something after you know the results, isn't a lot of fun.

Waiting to see if Michael Phelps wins another gold medal is exciting. But, knowing that he did or didn't takes away from the actual moment.

Most folks understand advertisers do pay most of the bills and they want their commercials seen during prime time.

It's also frustrating to see that team handball and men's badminton have replaced baseball and softball at the Olympics.

Then again, if that's all we have to worry or gripe about, it's still a pretty good USA we live in.

•Kentucky Christian Academy fourth-grader Hayes Mason shot 105 (53-52) to finish eight out of 16 golfers in the 10-and-under division in the Pepsi Junior Golf Tournament of Champions at Oxmoor Country Club last week in Louisville.

•Kyle Todd (6-3, 225), son of former Taylor County High School head coach Brad Todd, is a freshman walk-on quarterback at the University of Louisville. Todd passed for 3,200+ yards and 27 touchdowns as a senior at Elizabethtown High.

Daryl Gardner, left, accepts the 48th Duffers' Tournament championship plaque from tournament director Kenny Bennett on Monday night. The tourney was held over the weekend at Champions Pointe Country Club in Henryville, Ind.

Gardner grabs 48th Duffers

Net score of 134

Daryl Gardner shot net scores of 69 and 65 to win the 48th annual Duffers' Tournament at Champions Pointe Country Club in Henryville, Ind.

Gardner placed first, four shots ahead of David Parsons and another shot in front of Steve Mason and Rob Westbrook and one more stroke ahead of Danny Walls and Bo

Carlisle. Rounding out the top 10 were E.G. Brown, David Alan Newton, Jeff Gumm and Roger Grant.

Scattered deer deaths reported

Several people in Indiana and Kentucky have reported finding dead deer, and there is a suspicion the cause may be EHD (Epizootic hemorrhagic disease). Approximately 20 dead deer recently were found in west-Central Indiana, and there also have been some reports from readers related to western Kentucky and southern Illinois.

Some of the Indiana deer have been examined by state wildlife officials, but at the time of this writing, no official cause of death had been reported, although EHD is suspected.

The virus, called EHD (Epizootic hemorrhagic disease), seems to occur every few years in white-tailed deer, and is not infectious to humans. However, it may mean hunters in some areas may see fewer deer during the upcoming hunting seasons.

There was a serious outbreak of EHD in at least six midwestern states, including Kentucky, in 2007. Much of central Kentucky was particularly hard hit.

EHD is caused by a virus and outbreaks seem to occur every two or three years. While in some severe cases, up to a third of the herd in an area may succumb to the disease, the deaths don't have any long term negative impact on the numbers of deer.

The disease is spread by biting flies, also known as sand gnats, and flies or no-see-ums.

Outbreaks usually happen in late summer and early fall because of the increased presence of these biting gnats. Although deer affected with the acute form of EHD are most often seen during this period, deer with chronic cases can be found during winter.

Signs of the disease depend on the strength of the virus and length of the infection in the animal. Hemorrhagic disease causes fever, labored breathing and swelling of the head, neck, tongue and eyelids. Infected deer may die within 72 hours or they may slowly deteriorate for months from lameness and starvation.

Drought conditions this summer may be contributing to the current reoccurrence. During drought conditions water holes that remain have a higher level of salinity (salt) than normal. This water with increased salt makes ideal conditions for the gnats to reproduce in higher numbers.

Squirrel seasons opens next week and, archery deer season opens in September, so, hunters may find more dead deer. And while EHD can not be transmitted to humans, biologists say hunters should avoid eating any deer that appear to be infected.

EHD should not be confused with the unrelated brain disease, chronic wasting disease (CWD), which has never been found in Indiana.

EHD usually affects local deer populations until a few hard freezes kill the biting midges that spread the disease.

NOTES — Coming up this weekend the Cabela's King Kat Tournament Trail will hit the waters of the Ohio River at Vevay, Ind. with a $10,000 two-day Super Event.

Local anglers from Kentucky and Indiana will have the opportunity to fish along with regulars who compete on the trail. They also will have a chance to advance to the Cabela's King Kat Classic scheduled on the Alabama River at Selma, September 27-29. More information is available at: www.kingkatusa.com.

Wreck and rain favors Gordon

A lucky combination of a wreck and rain on Sunday at Pocono Raceway allowed Jeff Gordon to claim his first Sprint Cup victory of the season.

"Oh man, I can't believe this," Gordon said. "The way our luck has been going this year, we'll take a win any way we can get one. You can't ever give up. This one makes up for all the ones that got away."

Gordon was sixth during a restart on lap 91. His teammate Jimmie Johnson was the leader, with Matt Kenseth on the outside. The two cars driven by Johnson and Kenseth touched going into turn-1 after a tire on Johnson's No. 48 went down.

"I noticed that something didn't feel right," Johnson said. "I kept trying to clean the tires off and it got a little better so I just assumed I had trash on my tires, but when I got down into turn one I realized that I had a right-rear (tire) flat. Unfortunately that we lost the lead there and got a couple of cars in the process."

Johnson managed to hold on to his car, but Kenseth's No. 17 hit the outside wall, then came down, and was hit by Denny Hamlin.

This brought out another caution. When the cars were lined up for the restart, Jeff Gordon and another Hendrick teammate, Kasey Kahne were the leaders. The cars circled while speedway officials cleaned up the track. Before the race could go green, the heavens opened up with a downpour.

The scheduled 160-lap race was official at the end of 98 laps.

Kasey Kahne, who was scored second, had a right-rear tire go flat under the yellow flag.

"It wasn't the day we planned, but all our cars (Hendrick) were fast," said Kahne. "The good restart we got on that last caution is what put us in second place."

The remaining top-10 finishers of the rain shortened race were: 3. Martin Truex, 4. Brad Keselowski, 5. Tony Stewart, 6. Ryan Newman, 7. Carl Edwards, 8. Clint Bowyer, 9. Regan Smith, 10. Marcos Ambrose.

The Busch Brothers continue to struggle with mechanical problems. Kyle had engine problems in his No. 18 Toyota and only completed 74 laps. Kurt had a right front tire blow during lap 84 and wound up 30th.

One fan was killed and nine others injured as a result of lightning strikes following the race.

One challenge remains for Earnhardt

Dale Earnhardt has met two challenges, but one still remains.

He snapped a lengthy victory drought in June, has completed the long, nearly nine-year road back to the top of the NASCAR Sprint Cup Series points standings, and now his No. 88 Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet team truly can focus on the biggest prize, their first championship.

And it's certainly not a stretch to mention Earnhardt and championship in the same sentence.

"Give me a reason why not," said crew chief Steve Letarte when asked for reasons why his driver could win the 2012 title.

Earnhardt is, in fact, on a career pace. His numbers through 20 races speak for themselves: nine top fives, matching his previous best in 2004, fifteen top 10s, an average finish of 8.1, and a perfect 20 lead-lap finishes, including his fourth-place run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Dating back to last season, he has a record-sharing 21 consecutive lead-lap finishes.

Earnhardt last officially led the standings on Sept. 19, 2004, following a third-place finish at New Hampshire Motor Speedway, a span of 281 starts. He also sat atop the points after the Oct. 3, 2004 race at Talladega Superspeedway, but lost it mid-week after a 25-point penalty stemming from a post-race victory Lane interview.

"All season long we've been working hard and finishing well. That is symbolic of how well we've done," Earnhardt said. "We need to win more races. If we want to win the championship, we have to. I imagine we can win a couple races in the Chase."

Earnhardt snapped a four-year winless streak on June 17 at Michigan International Raceway.

There's no single key to Junior's turnaround, which has been more like a continuing process. His first season with Letarte put the team in the Chase for the first time with a final finish of seventh. Pairing the No. 88 team in the same shop as five-time champion Jimmie Johnson's No. 48 — and a closer relationship with crew chief Chad Knaus — has paid dividends as well. That association isn't lost on Johnson, who may wind up being Earnhardt's chief rival for the championship.

"There's a lot of confidence in our shop with both teams and the communication is as good as it's ever been," Johnson said. "I'm happy to see Steve as confident as he is and Junior both because we can really lean on them and pull from them and it's a two-way street."

CU hosts Athletic Boosters Auction tonight at 6

Campbellsville University will host its eighth annual Athletic Booster Club auction and dinner on Aug. 9. in the Winters Dining Hall. The event will begin at 6 p.m. with the silent auction items (approximately 20) open for bid and the meal scheduled to start at 6:30 in the Winters Dining Hall on campus.

Toward the end of the meal, a live auction will feature approximately 30 items, which include sports collectibles, golf outings and vacation destinations. Some of the most popular vacation spots include a week-long trip to a three-bedroom condo in Naples and a week's stay in Aruba. Pioneer College Caterers will once again provide the meal for the auction with a planned menu of bacon-wrapped beef tenderloin with grilled shrimp skewers, loaded mashed potatoes, fresh green beans and a field greens salad with a strawberry vinaigrette.

Each year, the auction helps kick off the upcoming university athletics calendar and booster club fund-raising efforts. Over the past five years, the event has brought in more than $60,000 and has seen a steady increase each year. Last year, the Campbellsville community and university alumni and friends set a record by raising more than $18,000 with 18 event sponsorships — a major increase from more than $7,000 and three sponsorships in 2007. The cost is $25 per person and the attire is business casual. Tickets are on sale through Aug. 3 and are being sold by CU coaching staffs, Big Maroon Club members and the CU office of development.

Holmes part of CBS Sports special on Aug. 18

Playing with a Purpose presented by Barclays, a one-hour CBS Sports special airing Saturday, Aug. 18 (2:00) not only documents the charitable activities of players and tournaments, but highlights the inspirational stories of those who have benefited from these efforts.

Campbellsville native J.B. Holmes will be one of the six stories on the special.

Last August, Holmes, the two-time PGA TOUR winner underwent brain surgery to address a malformation in his skull. Holmes has since returned to the TOUR and at THE PLAYERS 2012, he had an inspiring following in the Wendorff brothers. Ages 9, 8 and 5, all three brothers have been diagnosed with the same malformation. Holmes treated them to the experience of a lifetime, having them walk inside the ropes as Holmes made his way on the famed PLAYERS Stadium Course at TPC Sawgrass.

Also profiled will be The Barclays, the first FedExCup Playoff event, which has donated more than $39.5 million to charity since its inception, including $1.3 million in 2011; plus individual stories on Luke Donald, Bubba Watson, Matt Kuchar and Ben Crane.

Audience 1 Sports Soccer Camp on Aug. 20-22

Audience 1 Sports announces its Soccer Camp will run Aug. 20-22 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. for ages 5-12.

This camp is designed to improve the technical and tactical areas of the soccer player. Emphasis will be placed on individual ball work and team work. It will cover offensive 1 vs. 1, defensive 1 vs. 1 and work up to team offense and defense. Players will have opportunities to demonstrate their skills in small-sided games and full-field scrimmages. For more information or to register, contact Audience 1 Sports at 403-3373.

The cost is $40 if paid by Aug. 13 and $50 after. Volunteers wanting to help with this event, contact Audience 1 Sports at audience1sports@gmail.com.

Taylor Regional Hospital Golf Scramble set for Sept. 22

Taylor Regional Hospital will hold its fourth annual charity golf scramble on Saturday, Sept. 22 at the Campbellsville Country Club with an 8 a.m. shotgun start.

The proceeds from this event will again benefit the TRH van service, which provides free transportation and assists patients from Taylor, Green, Marion and Adair counties who are receiving services at the main hospital, cancer center, rehab services and physician offices who otherwise would not be able to provide their own transportation. The cost of the scramble is $300 per team or $75 per player and includes 18 holes of golf, cart and lunch. There will also be awards for longest drive, closest to the pin challenges and the winning team. Pre-registration is required by Friday, Sept. 14. For more information or to enter, contact Debbie Carrico at Taylor Regional Hospital at 789-5831, ext. 2615, or dhcarrico@trhosp.org.
